DONOR NARRATIVE: Donor 4316

Describe your personality (introvert, extrovert, funny, serious, goal-oriented, curious, etc.).

I consider myself an outgoing person who is intensely curious about the world. I have always had strong leadership skills and a good sense of how to bring people of varying personalities together. I have a quick wit and love to have fun, but am not the “party animal” kind of guy. I’m usually a bit more reserved. Even as a rather impish young boy, I was quite goal oriented and took my academic life very seriously. I thank my parents for instilling a very strong work ethic in me at a young age, as it has proven to help me reach my goals thus far. My friends tell me that I am the “go-to” guy when the chips are down.

What are your special interests and talents?

I consider myself a bit of a burgeoning Renaissance man. My musical interests range from techno to opera, though classical is my favorite. It is out of my love of music that I abstain from playing myself!

I am definitely passionate about the sciences, specifically the biosciences. As a high school student, I received numerous awards in the sciences and academics overall. I speak French fairly fluently and enthusiastically participate in the French club at my University. I was selected to participate in an internship at a prestigious medical school, working with graduate students and post-graduates in the field of immunology. This experience cemented the idea that I wasn’t to attend medical school and focus on medical research.

I am athletic, but no superstar. I swam and played water polo in high school. I currently focus on rock climbing and cycling. Odd as it may seem at my age, I am a gourmet cook. Having been raised in a “foodie” family I developed a passion for cooking and a self-published cookbook last year as a resource for others who want to eat really well on a budget. Without a doubt, my most defining characteristic is my absolute passion for learning about the world. I travel extensively in an effort to fill my intense curiosity and appreciation of other cultures.

How would you describe your enjoyment of and skills in the following areas:

math: I am quite capable, perhaps somewhat gifted in math. I understand concepts quite easily.

mechanical: Conceptually, I have good mechanical skills, however my parents would say that I am far better at taking things apart than putting them together.

athletic: Athletically, I can hold my own and I enjoy a wide variety of athletic activities. I would make a better team manager than MVP.

musical, artistic, creative: I am a creative thinker and enjoy the arts immensely; however, I am not artistic.

language (what languages besides English do you speak?): I am fairly fluent in French and plan to start learning Spanish very shortly.

What are your goals and ambitions in life?

My goals include getting my M.D. (I am currently a Molecular and Cellular Biology Major) or perhaps an M.D. /PhD and pursue a career in neurology and medical research.

Why do you want to be a sperm donor?

I am choosing to be a donor to offset some of my college expenses and to offer something that could be helpful in the process. I feel very good about serving as a donor because I have so many exceptional family members and an excellent medical history. I am proud to have others take advantage of this and I take my donor responsibilities very seriously.

Did you choose to be an Identity-Release® Program donor? ____Yes XNo. Why did you make this choice?

At this point in time, I am not ready to make such a difficult decision. However, this may change in time.

What message would you like us to pass on to the people who are getting your sperm?

To my potential recipients, I wish you the very best in fulfilling your desire to have or expand you family. I am part of a very close knit family and it is my pleasure to offer you this help.
